SPORTS NGIN
807 Broadway Street NE Suite 300 Minneapolis, MN 55413

Just what does the world's largest technology platform focused on youth and amateur sports look like? This: Exposed brick and ductwork, huge windows, super-high ceilings, restaurant-style booths, steel stools, and a sea of gleaming hardwood. We transformed a "vintage" building in Northeast Minneapolis from a tired light bulb factory to one of the freshest places to work in the country. A bleacher-like tiered seating platform for meetings and large gatherings plus a unique break-area island, will form the hub of Sport Ngin. Their teams will be able to gather, share ideas and build better applications for their customers in this dramatic new space. And according to Startribune's, Lee Schafer, Sports Ngin is THE place to work for millennials. You know who you are.
